

The SOI @ Ranga Shankara

Ranga Shankara isn't just a theatre. It's the theatre in India. Since opening its doors in 2004, it has staged over 8,000 shows and continues to lead the charge with 400 performances every year. This is where theatre lives, breathes, and pushes boundaries.

The Symphony Orchestra of India is a rare and special non-theatre event hosted annually here. Its performance at Ranga Shankara is not only a cultural landmark but also a perfect fit for the theatre's unique architecture, designed to create pristine, natural acoustics.

In this extraordinary natural sound space, the SOI's music is experienced without amplification. Every note carries effortlessly, filling the hall and enveloping the listener in a rich, layered soundscape. SOI at Ranga Shankara is more than a concert—it is an immersive encounter with music in its purest form!
